If you cannot answer all of these questions, do not begin work and bring the concerns to your supervisor.

How you will manage for exposure to COVID-19
What is the reporting process if you are exposed at work?
What work tasks put you at risk?
How has your employer trained you on the hazards and controls?
How will you protect yourself at work?
Are there any situations where the hazard controls might not be fully effective?
What is the process for sanitizing?
What is the process and schedule for disinfecting areas and items?
What are the safe work procedures and practices?
What PPE are you required to wear?
What training have you received on the use and care of PPE?
List any other hazards and their control measures that you need to be aware of for your department that have been discussed with you.
